Want To Lose Weight?— Dieting Myths Debunked

If you think you're committing a dieting sin just because you're a late-night "snacker," here's good news!

According to "Dieting for Dummies," eating late at night is not the culprit. It's actually the type of foods late-night snackers eat that causes the damage. Your body processes calories the same regardless of the time of day. If you avoid the ice cream and chips, those late-night snacks are perfectly harmless.

The second dieting myth is the notion that you can never have seconds. In fact, you may want to take a smaller first serving, see how full you feel, and then choose to have seconds of some items.

Another common myth says you should not eat between meals. In reality, eating three main meals and a few small snacks in between can often prevent you from gorging at meals. By keeping your hunger pangs away, you're able to make smarter eating choices.

Remember, don't deny your cravings. Having a small serving of what you are craving can actually lead to less caloric intake than larger amounts of substituted food that aren't as satisfying.

Another popular myth says if you've reached a plateau in your dieting plan, the only way to lose more weight is to drop your caloric intake significantly. Truth is, when your caloric intake drops significantly, so does your metabolism. Exercise is the best way to break through the plateau and continue your weight loss.

Another classic myth claims that eating breakfast actually makes you hungrier during the day. This is only true if your breakfast is filled with sugary carbohydrates. These common breakfast foods will leave you feeling hungry in a short time. A good breakfast alternative is whole-grain cereal or eggs. These are higher in protein and fat, but they will sustain you for a longer period.

Becoming a vegetarian is not the magic answer either. Many believe that substituting nuts and cheeses for meats will allow them to lose weight. Not true. You are simply substituting one high-fat food for another and weight loss is not going to happen.

Word Of The Month...

Studies have shown that your income and wealth are directly related to the size and depth of your vocabulary. Here is this month's word, so you can impress your friends. You may even be able to fatten your wallet!

Gustatory \gus ta to ry\ (adjective)

Meaning: of taste or tasting; relating to the sense of taste or to the action or experience of tasting something

Sample Sentence: The lasagna was a gustatory delight.

Pies Aren't Square....

A fifth generation farmer is determined that his son will be the first in their family to go to college. So, he and the wife saved every penny for years. When the big day came for Junior to leave for school, the old man is the proudest he's ever been.

After the first semester, Junior came home and the old man sat him down for a talk. "Well boy, you've been at school for three months now, I want you to tell me some of that fancy book learnin'." Junior says, "My favorite class is math. We just learned a new formula...Pi r squared." At hearing this, the old man rolls his eyes and smacks his forehead, "Dog gone it! I spent all that money on schooling and all you can tell me is Pi r squared? Why everybody knows that pie are round; cornbread are squared!"

Attention Genealogy Buffs

The Statue of Liberty/Ellis Island Foundation has launched a web site that will allow searches of the old passenger manifests from the ships that brought immigrants through the New York Harbor. The site, www.ellislandrecords.org, allows you to view electronic images of the actual documents dated 1892 to 1924.

Quote Of The Month

A person should hear a little music, read a little poetry, and see a fine picture every day in order that worldly cares do not obliterate the sense of the beautiful which God has implanted in the human soul.

-Goethe

Finally, one of the most dangerous dieting myths is the idea that fasting will shrink your stomach and allow you to lose weight. What really happens when you fast is that your body releases chemicals called ketones which build up and put a burden on your kidneys. They're also the most common contributor to bad breath.

By simply avoiding a few myths, you'll be surprised how much weight you can lose with smart eating and exercise.

No weather man? No problem

Before technology came around, man had to rely upon observations of the world around them. Here are some things you can notice to do a little weather predicting of your own.

1. Remember the rhyme: "Red sky at night, sailor's delight; red sky at night, sailors take warning." Look for a sign of red in the sky (not a red sun) – if it's red during sunset, there is a high pressure system with dry air stirring dust particles. Since prevailing fronts move from west to east, the dry air is heading towards you. If it's red in the morning, the dry air is past you and following behind it is a low pressure system carrying moisture.
2. Look for a rainbow in the west. Check out the sky in the morning sun. If you see a rainbow in the west, that would indicate moisture coming towards you. A rainbow in the east around sunset indicates the moisture is on its way out. "Rainbow in the morning, need for warning."
3. Look at the moon during the night. If the moon is bright and sharpely focused, it's probably because the low pressure has cleared out the dust – and low pressure means rain. A ring around the moon indicates moisture within the next 3 days. "Circle around the moon, rain or snow soon."
4. Watch animals. They know.
  - If birds are flying high in the sky, there will probably be fair weather.
  - Animals, especially birds, get quiet right before it rains.
  - Cows will typically lie down before a thunderstorm. They also tend to stay close to each other if bad weather's on the way.
  - Ants build their hills with very steep sides just before a rain.
  - Cats tend to clean their ears before a rain.
5. Look at the pine cones. Pine trees are an excellent indicator of the overall harshness of the coming winter. In fall, look at the pines and notice the cones. Low hanging cones could indicate a mild winter.

And of course, this is just the beginning. Noticing the clouds in the sky – the type and position therewith - can be great indicators of potential weather.

In a nutshell – these methods are based on a few key (and general) principles: low pressure brings rain (snow) and major weather systems move from west to east. Predicting the weather is noticing the signs of pressure change in your area. Note that there may be storms that may not follow the rule – but there are always those exceptions. (kinda like the English language)

More Real Life Dilbertisms

Here are some more words of wisdom from real life bosses.

- “No one will believe you solved this problem in one day! We’ve been working on it for months. Now, go act busy for a few weeks and I’ll let you know when it’s time to tell them.”

- “This is to inform you that a memo will be issued today regarding the memo mentioned above.”
- “Teamwork is a lot of people doing what I say.”

Simple Energy Saving Tips

As energy prices soar, homeowners are looking for ways to improve energy efficiency. These improvements will not only help your home stay cooler in the summer, but they will also allow your home to hold heat during the winter. The CertainTeed Home Institute offers these tips:

- Upgrade your attic insulation. This is especially important if your home was built before 1980 because the recommended levels have been raised since that time. Also, check that the insulation around windows and doors is sufficient. This can either be done yourself or with the help of a contractor.
- Strategically plant trees and shrubs to reduce heat exposure. Low-lying evergreens planted close to the foundation of your home can help slow the escape of cool air during the summer and insulate during the winter.
- Have your cooling and heating units serviced regularly to ensure that they are working efficiently. Also, be sure to change the filter regularly.
- Weather-strip, caulk and seal around all windows, doors, electrical boxes, and plumbing penetrations. Check if roof eaves and/or siding are airtight.
- Close the east/west facing blinds and curtains during the day to minimize heat gain. Also, close the vents in the guestroom and other infrequently used rooms to allow the flow of air to concentrate on the frequently used rooms.
- Install an automatic programmable thermostat. It will help control your home’s temperature around your living schedule.

How To Avoid Consumer Fraud

With all sorts of consumer fraud occurring each day, it’s important to protect yourself. Here are four telltale signs of fraud.

- Question promised prizes. If you have not entered any drawings and someone calls you to tell you that you have won something, be suspicious. Never send money to collect your prize.
- Don’t give in to pressure. If it is a legitimate offer, they will not ask you to make any immediate decisions.
- Never give out your credit card number or the number on the bottom of your check. With either of these numbers, a crook can clean you out.
- If they ask for money and tell you that it will be picked up by a delivery service in just a few hours, don’t do it. This is how criminals avoid mail fraud charges and reduce the time that you have to cancel the transaction.

Brighten That Smile

Want an easy and inexpensive way to whiten and brighten your teeth? After brushing with your regular toothpaste, mix ½-teaspoon baking soda with two drops of lemon juice and brush. The baking soda absorbs stains from the teeth and the citric acid in the lemon juice whitens. You'll see the difference if you do this everyday.

The Awesome Avocado

You don't have to avoid avocados, even though they have a high fat content. They actually contain "good" unsaturated fats that do not raise blood cholesterol. The U.S. Government's Dietary Guidelines Report suggests that moderate amounts of foods like avocados can help keep blood cholesterol down and offer protection against heart disease. Avocados are also very high in folic acid and potassium. And, they're a good source of iron and Vitamins A and C.

Real Estate Corner...

Q. We're considering buying a second home for vacations and eventually for retirement. What are the pros and cons of doing this?

A. Second homes are becoming an increasingly popular investment due to the great tax advantages. Before you buy, it is a good idea to consult a tax expert, but in most cases up to $1 million in mortgage debt insurance is deductible in addition to points and property taxes. As a bonus, you may collect rent for up to 14 days per year without claiming it as income. Be sure that you don't go over that 14-day limit or you will have to abide by a whole new set of investment property rules. The Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 also allows you to keep up to $500,000 in profit from the sale of the home as long as you have lived in it for two of the last five years and haven't sold another home in the past two years.

Although these tax advantages may sound great, there are some pitfalls associated with the purchase of a second home. Financing on second homes is often more expensive than for a primary residence. Lenders raise the interest rates because during hard times, most people will let the mortgage payments for their second home falter before they risk losing their primary residence. You will need to shop around to find a good mortgage broker. Often brokers close to the purchase site will give you a better deal. Also, consider seller financing or co-ownership to ease the financial burdens.

When buying a second home you need to concentrate on the location very carefully. Look for the cheapest home in the best area in order to maximize your value and appreciation potential. Be sure that you choose something close to the activities and amenities you love. If you are thinking of selling or buying soon, and need friendly representation, please call me at 391-7086.
